PROF. P. G. HOLDEN AT SHORT COURSE

ARRIVES A DAY BEFORE STUDENTS EXPECT HIM.

MEN EXPERT AT CANNING

Do All the Work By Cold Pack Method —Others Show How to Shock Oats.

Prof. P. G. Holden, for several years an admirer of vitalized agriculture as taught in the Nodaway County schools surprised short course students this morning by arriving a day ahead of time from Chicago. He addressed the assembly this morning, and will be on the program for the county teachers' meeting which opens tomorrow. He visited the different groups at work at the College this morning.

The group led by Professor Bert Cooper studied cold pack canning and drying of vegetables and fruits. They canned rhubarb, tomatoes and beets by the cold pack method this morning, and dried beets, beans, potatoes and greens this afternoon. With men students doing the actual work of canning, instead of merely carrying water, it was quite unlike canning time in the average home, according to Superintendent Cooper.

W. A. Power's group divided and classified seeds of weeds and small grains collected yesterday, determining the percentage of purity of the different seeds.

George W. Somerville's group finisher its field trip and selected from the different samples of seed corn to be studied, devoting the morning to judging and scoring of the seed.

Leslie Someville's group finished its study of pastures yesterday. Today they are treating seed oats for prevention of smut. The members of the group are expected to know how to make the proper solustion of formalin and how to treat the seed with it. They are also demonstrating the proper method of shocking oats and other small grain. The shocks of oats they put up will stand even if someone climbs upon it.

The group led by William Burr is studying the judging and scoring of potatoes and other root crops, their marketing and methods of arranging exhibits and displays.

Prof. C. C. Ieeson of the State Teachers' College faculty visited the short course this morning and made a short talk. James Carpenter took pictures of the groups at work yesterday and will take others this afternoon.

Miss Fanny Buchanan, in addition to giving her half hour of music this morning, gave a special group an hour's instruction in May pole dances, folk games and physical exercises to music, including little music games for the smaller children.

EDITOR FRED HULL FOR DELEGATE TO CONVENTION

Grant City Paper Suggests Maryville Man be Sent to the Constitutional Convention

The Worth County Tribune of Grant City suggests Editor Fred Hull as a delegate from this senatorial district to the constitutional convention. The Grant City paper had the following:

Friday of this week the officers of the State Constitution League hold an open convention in Kansas City and they will discuss in open forum the things needed in the new constitution and the best suited to "put over" this kind of a job.

In this connection The Tribune believes Missouri needs broad minded delegates, men of vision and progressiveness—not partisan politicans J. Fred Hull of Maryville would be The Tribune idea of a man possessing the above qualifications and if agreeable to the republicans of this senatorial district, would ably present the needs of Northwest Missouri as such a delegate. He is also a man acquainted with public affairs and able to fight his way through.

The election of delegates will probably be held in December and the nominations within the next thirty to sixty days. Each senatorial district is entitled to 2 delegates, one republican and one democrat. These are elected by the senatorial committee, which is composed of the chairman of the county committees.

AERIAL ACROBATICS ADDED TO PROGRAM

STUNT FLYER AND WING WALKER TO BE HERE.

ANNOUNCE FULL PROGRAM

Day Starts With Reveille and Raising of Colors at 7 o'Clock—No Dull Moments.

Another feature attraction was secured for the Soldiers' Reunion and Centennial Celebration yesterday afternoon, when a contract was signed with the Clarinda Aero Company for and exhibition of aero acrobatics and wing walking. Pilot C. M. Childs is the aviator who will put his machine through its perilous stunts, and W. A. Parkins walks nochalantly about the wings while the machine is among the clouds.

The aerial exhibition will be staged at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday. At that time, say the aviators, the air is most likely to be tranquil, and the stunts can be performed in a lower altitude, giving the spectators a closer view. The flyers will present some of the most difficult feats ever performed in the air. The wing walking among the clouds is alone worth going miles to see.

The company with whom the contract is made will also carry passengers during the day. They will bring two planes, a Curtiss and a Standard.

Letters of invitation are being sent out today by the soldiers' committee to all American Legion posts of the county, inviting them to participate in the parade as posts, displaying their colors.

The war veterans will start the day with reveille and raising of the colors at 7 o'clock in the morning. At 8 o'clock registration commences, when they will be given tickets for the free dinner at noon. They will form in parade at 11:30 o'clock and mess call will sound at noon. After the dinner the veterans will be free to be entertained by others until 6 o'clock, when they will assemble at Fourth and Main Streets for retreat and the lowering of the colors.

The completed program for the day, as now announced by the committee, is as follows:

WANTS TO START ROAD CAMPAIGN

THE DEMAND TO PUSH MISSOURI'S PROGRAM IS WIDESPREAD

WOULD AMEND THE LAW

Suggestions are Made to Change the Law So First Bonds May be Sold Soon

Jefferson City, Sept. 1.—A demand is coming from many parts of the state for some plan to permit the state to begin the 60-million-dollar road building program early next year. The law enacted at the special session of the legislature provided the first 10-million installment of the road bonds could not be sold until March, 1923.

A reason for pushing ahead now is the demand for employment among ex-service men. Also it is pointed out that little may be gained by putting off the road program until after another regular legislative session. It is feared attempts will be made then to redraft the new road law or perhaps repeal it entirely.

The suggestion is made that should a special session be called this winter to enact the 15 million soldier bonus law, approved at the special election August 2, the legislature also should be asked to amend the road bond law so the first installment of bonds could be sold early next year.

It is understood that Governor Hyde has considered the suggestion. A. W. Graham, state highway engineer, favors the suggestion.

One point against immediate sale of the bonds was that the state road fund would be necessary through 1922 to carry out the old Morgan-McCullough road law. Rural communities feared the guarantee to each county of $1,200 a mile for fifty miles would not be carried out.

Mr. Graham answers that there are not more than six counties in the state in which all or a part of the $60,000 allotment under the old law had not been expended. He estimated that after the entire $1,200 a mile program is carried out there will be a surplus of about 1 million dollars next year in the state road fund.

There are now eight hundred miles of roads. Total expenditure of 11 1-4 million dollars of local, state and federal money either under contract or being built. Mr. Graham estimates the total will reach 1,500 miles next year. It is pointed out that the few remaing projects might be absorbed in the big state program.

Although each county is guaranteed $1,200 a mile for fifty miles of road under the Morgan-McCullough law, the state highway department has permitted the total of $60,000 in many counties to be concentrated on a few miles of road. It is believed that those counties which have not had their complete allotment of state aid under the old law would receive greater benefit if the 60-million road program were started next spring.

FOOTBALL MEN OUT AT FIRST PRACTICE

COACH SPRONG GIVES MEN WORK OUT TODAY

SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

From Largest And Best Squad in History of School Team Will be Picked.

Russell Sprong, new football coach at the State Teachers College, is in Maryville today and is making preparations to begin regular workouts as soon as the college opens a week from next Tuesday. A small group of prospective students already in town worked out with the new coach on the college field this afternoon. The workout consisted mainly of punting and passing.

The green and white team will swing into action early. The opening game will be with Kirksville here on September 30. This game, although the first one of the season, will be one of the most important contests of the season, counting in the conference standings. It will give Coach Sprong a line on how his men behave under fire, information which will be valuable in the later battles.

Following the Kirksville game, the Bearcats will have easier sledding the next two weeks, when they will meet Graceland College of Lamoni, Iowa, and the Still College of Osteopathy of Des Moines. While these teams are not expected to be so formidable as the Kirksville champions, they will not be "grapes." Coach Sprong expects his team to meet and conquer a high class of opposition throughout the season.

The first game away from home will be with Central Wesleyan College at Warrenton on October 22. The next week offers an opening date. On November 4, the Bearcats will meet ancient rivals, when they play Tarkio College at Tarkio. Warrensburg will be played at Warrensburg on November 11.

November 18 and November 25 are open dates. Two more games will be scheduled.

Practically all of the letter men of the eleven last year will be back to try for the team. Webb, Kirby, Pickens, Puckett, Steiger, Hays, Mapel and others have signified their intention of attending school here this year. Several of the Maryville High players of last year will also be out for the squad. They are Foreman, DeArmond, Allan, Aley, Eaton, Gray and Hall.

Merle Selecman, center on the S. A. T. C. team of 1918, which defeated Tarkio and thereby ranked first in the conference, will enter school but has not decided whether he will be a candidate for the team. Clyde Sawyers, whose football experience at the College dates back to the days of Homer (Chido) Scott and Neil Garard, may also enter school. It is certain that the squad will be larger and better than ever before.

Coach Sprong, who has visited several counties in the College district, reports that several good high school athletes will enter school here. Efforts are being made to find employment for those who must earn part of their expenses.

Red hair is a great asset to a football player, in the opinion of the new coach, and news that a former star for the Plattsburg High School whose locks are said to be neither brick nor orange colored but firey red, is considering entering college here was especially welcome.

"I'd like to have an all red headed football team," Sprong declared.

ORDERS AIRPLANES TO WEST VIRGINIA

ARE DOING SCOUT DUTY IN BATTLE AREA

MINERS ARE RETREATING

One Hundred of Invaders Are Killed by Defending Forces in Logan-Boone Border

Washington, Sept. 1.—A squadron of thirteen airplanes today was ordered by Secretary of War Weeks to proceed to West Virginia. In the event martial law is established, the airplanes are under order to proceed from Langley field, Va.

Washington, Sept. 1. — Airplanes have been ordered to fly over West Virginia to determine if the miners are complying with President Harding's proclamation that they must disband by noon today. Martial law has not been declared.

Williamson, W. Va., Sept. 1. — The main body of armed miners which attempted to enter Logan county is in retreat, Sheriff Chafin of Logan county reported to military headquarters here shortly after noon. Sheriff Chafin said fifty or more miners have been killed by the defending forces. He said three of the defenders have been killed.

Charleston, Sept. 1.—Reports to the governor's office today declared three deputies and about twenty miners were killed or wounded in the fighting last night. The fighting is continuing today, the report declared.

Logan, Sept. 1.—The miners have either retreated or are planning an aggressive action on a big scale, Colonel William Eubank, commander of the citizen army, declared today.

The military authorities estimated thirty miners were killed in battle at Crooked Creek, nine miles from here, last night. There is no way of confirming the report. Three deputies are known to have been killed.

Miner sharpshooters are firing infrequently today from the hill tops. No casualties were reported today.

Logan county authorities are anxious for a martial law declaration from President Harding, as this is regarded as inevitable.

Ethel, Sept. 1.—Fighting between the Logan County defenders under Sheriff Chafin and the armed striking miners attempting to march through Logan County was continuing this morning. Reports of the battle were distinctly audible at police headquarters here.

Williamson, Sept. 1.—Reports reaching Sheriff Pinson of Mingo County from the Logan-Boone County border declares that as many as a hundred men were killed in the fighting late Wednesday. The reports are fragmentary and unconfirmed.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hartness and little daughter, Eleanor, who returned to Maryville last week from Brush, Colo., where they had been for months, have moved to the Hastings property on East Fourteenth street.

Donald Goforth, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Goforth, will undergo a tonsil and adenoid operation at St. Francis hospital tomorrow morning.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN NODAWAY COUNTY

If Congress and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue want to please the substantial voters of this country, they will find some way to simplify the income tax blanks. The greatest objection to the income tax is not so much in the amount men have to pay as in the annoyance and trouble of trying to fill numerous complicated blanks that call for information the average man frequently does not have and often can not get. The principal of the income tax is absolutely correct but the administration of it either makes it tolerable or intolerable.

The railroad crossing continues to take its terrible toll in autos and human life. In England, the Government is collecting the wrecks of automobiles destroyed by trains as a warning to autoists to be on the lookout at all crossings. The consequences are too serious to take any chances. Whether the engineer whistles or not, no person can afford to risk a collision. This matter of being absolutely sure at railroad crossings should be burned into the memory of every man or woman who has occasion to cross the tracks. When the railroad is at fault it is financially liable but this does not bring back lives lost nor repair permanent injuries to the living.

A NATION ON WHEELS

Discussing the present day transportation question, the Muscatine Iowa, Journal says:

"Not many years ago, the "saturization point' for automobiles in America was placed at 10,000,000 cars It is estimated that there are 9,000,000 cars in operation in the country at this time. Col. Leonard P. Ayres predicts that within ten years Americans will own 20,000,000 motor vehicles. That's almost a car to the family."

"Should this total be reached, even considering the number of commercial cars, the family lacking this means of transportation might be the exception.

"In the light of this possible development, the future of the railroads, as well as the street cars, looks dark. The automobile has made the problem confronting the street railway, and an increase in number of motor vehicles, together with the establishment of year-round roads on main traveled highways, will further reduce railway travel. With hard roads comes the motor van, which, in turn, diverts a considerable volume of freight from the railroads, especially on the short haul.

"It makes inevitable a restriction of the service now extended by the steam lines and this in turn, operates to cause the public to rely more and more upon personally owned means of transportation or encourages the development of bus lines between nearby towns.

"How the general automobile will be employed in the next decade, will depend upon new inventions looking toward cheaper cars or reducing operating costs. Hundreds of mechanical experts are today working on new models in which substitute for gasoline can be used.

"How seriously the airplane will compete with the automobile for supremacy ten years hense, forms another conjecture. A further problem which will be presented is that of affording parking space of the increased number of motor vehicles and of regulating the heavier flow of traffic."

By George R. Holmes

Washington, Sept. 1.—"Study law, young man, Study law!"

If Horace Greeley were alive today and could cast his critical and far-seeing eye over Washington, allowing it to linger a moment on the great white dome of the Capitol, he surely would revise his famous admonition to youth. Instead of advising young men to "Go West, Go West!" he would undoubtedly suggest that they dig into law.

A vocational analysis of Congress, with its ninety-six Senators and its 435 Representatives reveals many interesting things. And not the least of these revelations is the fact that nearly 60 per cent of the membership of both Houses of Congress found success by pursuing the dry and some what arduous pathway that leads through law and the courts.

Of the 531 members of the House and Senate 333 are lawyers and many more of them have studied the law's intricacies. Most of this 333 rate themselves as "practicing attorneys". Others, through wealth and success, have escaped the drudgery of active practice and are "big" enough to gain fat fees in consultative and advisory capacities but they claim the law as their principal avocation.

Truly do lawyers make our laws and then charge us for interpreting them!

The cry of the soap-box orator that "the country is in the grip of lawyers" seems borne out, if the vocational analysis of Congress can be taken as a criterion.

In the main the careers of these lawyers-legislators have run through about the same channels. They have for the most part been started in "Judge So-and-So's law office." After the dry and tedious apprenticeship they have branched out for themselves, maybe hanging out a modest shingle of their own or perhaps joining some already well-established firm.

The first political step usually was taken in municipal or county or district politics and then up through the various stages until they have finally landed in Congress. A few, very few of them have leaped to success, as revealed in their illuminating biographies in the Congressional Record. Most of them have come up by slow and easy stages.

The moral contained in a vocational survey of Congress, if there is one, apparently is:

"If you want a political career, get into law."

Three hundred and thirty-three lawyers in Congress. Nearly 60 per cent!

And the rest—what of them?

They are editors, farmers, manufacturers, real estate and insurance men, bankers, doctors, teachers, merchants, coal dealers, dentists, engineers and what not—a cross section of any prosperous American community.

After the law it seems that newspaper work is the best avenue through which to make a Congressional approach. There are twenty-four editors and publishers of newspapers in the two branches of Congress.

Of the farmers there are twenty-two. It should be explained however, that most of those who list themselves as "farmers" are not of the "dirt farmer" variety, very few of them, duirng Congressional recesses, go out to the stables at 4 a. m., harness a draft team by lantern-light and are to be seen sinking their ploughs into the soil by sunrise. They could more properly be termed "farm owners" than farmers.

There are nineteen members of Congress who list their principal business as manufacturing, thirteen as real estate and insurance, and eleven as bankers. There are many more than eleven interested and connected with banking enterprises, but apparently it is a side-line to their regular business.

There are many wealthy men in Congress, but there are only two whose biographies reveal so little of their business enterprises as to merit the classification of "capitalist."

The balance of Congress is scattered among a dozen vocations and callings. One member lists his business as "owner of a clipping bureau," another as a restaurant proprietor, another as a well diller, etc.

If the representation of lawyers were cut down to a somewhere near proportionate size Congress would be a typical cross section of American business and professional life—there are men in it who live entirely on their salaries there are others whose salaries hardly pay their servants' salaries, but the vast majority of them are men in circumstances that could be described as "easy."

And most of 'em got it throug law.

JUST GOT OVER A COLD?

Look out for kidney troubles and backache. Colds overtax the kidneys and often leave them weak. For weak kidneys—well, read what a Maryville woman says:

Mrs. M. Bratcher, 1322 E. Second St., says: "Several years ago while recovering from a bad cold a terrible dull aching pain settled in the small of my back and bothered me constantly. As the days went by my back grew very lame and sore and these pains darted around to my hips. I suffered severely and could hardly do my house work. I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills which I had heard so much about. I purchased a box at Gaugh & Evans Drug Store. The first box produced such good results that I continued using them. After I had used three boxes of Doan's the pains left me and I was completely cured. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone afflicted with a similar trouble."

EMPIRE OPENS THEATRICAL SEASON WITH "DARDANELLA"

Musical Comedy Promises a Laugh Every Minute—A Metropolitan Cast

The opening of the theatrical season at the Empire theater will take place this evening when the McGregor Company's celebrated musical comedy, "Dardanella," will be presented.

"Dardanella" is described as a tornado of jazzing—a whirlwind of mirth and a cyclone of song. All the big features which made the big show so popular during its metropolitan engagement have been retained—the same girls, a small army of them; the same cast of singers, dancers and funmakers and the identical scenic investiture.

There is not a serious moment in "Dardanella". A giggle, a laugh or a scream every minute is the promise. Indications point to the same crowded house here as has greeted the big show every night since leaving New York.

Elder Carmichael Is 88 Years.

Pickering has a remarkable man in the person of Elder C. J. Carmichael, who is now 88 years old, but is still strong in both body and mind, getting around with more ease than men much younger, and can still preach a good old fashioned Baptist sermon that does the soul good. Last week he visited a son near Hopkins and went on into Iowa, preaching at Grinnell and stood the trip just fine. He is called on to preach many funerals, having been here long enough to know all the old timers in northwest Missouri and southwestern Iowa. His friends hope he will be permitted to live many years yet to go about doing good.—Pickering Items in Hopkins Journal.

COMMITTEE TO DEFEND REFERENDUM PETITIONS

Fisher Declares State Committee Will Defend Attack By $50,000 Fund.

Jefferson City, Sept. 1.—Thomas H. Fisher, secretary of the Democratic State Committee, commenting today on the statement that $50,000 has been raised in St. Louis to fight the referendum on Gov. Hyde's consolidation bills, the county unit bills and the workmen's compensation bills, said the state committee was prepared to defend the referendum petitions.

"Not only will there referendum petitions be defended by the Democratic committee in court, or elsewhere," said Fisher, "but by people who believe that a vote of the state should be had on such legislation.

"The petitions were carefully circulated by responsible men, and they will stand in court if President Victor Miller of the St. Louis Police Board wants to take them there.

"They will be amply and fully defended by counsel for the committee if the threatened attack is made."

Miller is in charge of legal work for the Business Men's Committee on Constructive Legislation, organized to combat attacks on the governor's measures.

Secretary of State Charles U. Becker has passed on the sufficiency and adequacy of the referendum petitions, and found them to comply with all requirements of the law. This is indicted by the fact that he certified all of the consolidation referendums to the attorney general for supplying "ballot titles", as required by law.

Attorneys said the only possible point of attack on the referendum was through an injunction to prevent Becker certifying them to the county clerks. The law requires that this be done sixty days before the date of the election at which a referendum is to be held.

License to marry was issued in St. Joseph yesterday to Miss Iona Shepherd and Harvey Weir, both of Skidmore.

TAKE STING FROM IMMIGRANTS' LIFE

CONSULS TO REJECT UNFIT BEFORE THEY SAIL.

WILL KEEP OUT DISEASE

Measure Will Keep Out Afflicted and Stop Tragedies of Those Denied Entry.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The necessity for turning back hundreds of immigrants arriving at American ports who have sold their homes in the lands of their birth and spent their last pennies for passage to the "land of opportunity" will be obviated by the passage of Representative Albert Johnson's bill now before Congress, Secretary of Labor Davis pointed out today. Many of the immigrants now arriving in the United States are afflicted with dangerous and loathsome contagious diseases, are feeble minded, mentally or physically defective, or are in such circumstances that to admit them would be to fill our institutions with public charges.

The new measure provides for the weeding out of these inadmissible aliens before they leave their home countries through selection by representatives of the United States Government residing at the ports of embarkation. Two special agents will be stationed at each of the principal ports—one a member of the Public Health Service and the other an experienced immigrant inspector.

Consuls Would Act.

The selection of immigrants will operate through the use of the vise system, which requires the immigrant to procure from his government a passport, which must be presented to an American consular officer for vise before he can embark for the United States. This vise will be granted only after inspection by the immigrant and public health inspectors, as contemplated by the Johnson measure.

"Perhaps it will cost a little more than the present hit-or-miss method of vising passports by American consular officers," said Secretary Davis. "The present passport vise of $10, however, ought to cover the cost of this service, and, much as the revenue is needed by the government, it is hardly fair that this tax of $10 be imposed upon aliens in their own countries in addition to the head tax which they must pay upon admission to the country, without giving something in return. In the interest of humanity Congress ought not to quibble at the slightly larger appropriation necessary, if it is necessary, for a selected immigration will not require the same attention at the port of debarkation as the motley crowds now handled, for, knowing the heartaches now occasioned at our ports, the consciences of the American public would be easier."

Who Are Barred.

It is the duty of immigration authorities to prevent the entry into this country, for the purpose of protecting American citizens and residents, of the following classes of persons, when certified as such by officers of the Public Health Service: Idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded persons, epileptics, insane persons, persons of constitutional psychopathic inferiority, persons mentally defective persons afflicted with tuberculosis, chronic, alcoholism, contagious diseases, either loathsome or contagious

Most of the diseases listed are probably little known to the average American, but they are as bad and as dangerous as their names indicate. It is often asserted that most of the contagious diseases and epidemics within the City of New York are directly traceable to Ellis Island. The great pity, say immigation authorities is that, under the present method of handling immigration, there is no assurance to the immigrant when he leaves his country that he will be permitted to land, or, of he is permitted that part of his family will not be deported back to the country from whence they started.

Disease is not Welcomed.

Many instances of a pathetic nature are appealed to the Secretary of Labor daily. A few days ago, as a specific illustration, there was taken an appeal of the case of a child two years of age for whom a warrant on deportation had been issued returning him, in the custody of his mother, to Poland. He was afflicted with ringworm of the scalp, a parasite which starts on the head and eats out the roots of the hair in a circular fashian. The family was not in good financial circumstances, and to treat the case to effect a cure might take a year, at a cost of probably a thousand dollars. Some one must accompany the child back to Poland where the child could be treated more cheaply, and a case of this kind the mother would be designated as an accompanying alien.

This family had saved for years, looking forward to the time when they could come to the United States. They sold out all they had of material things which made up a home at a sacrifice and a discouraging rate of exchange. They wanted to become citizens of this great country, but when they arrived it was found that the entrance of one child would imperil the health of perhaps thousands of little children to whom this loathsome disease might be communicated. The family thus separated must cease to be a happy family, and to go back to the county from where they came meant misery and want.

Some Cases Pathetic

Other cases come in which would be humorous if they did not carry with them so much disappointment for the immigrant.

Under the Act of February 23, 1-917 illiterates, with a few exceptions, are not permitted entrance into the United States. In some cases this law works peculiar hardship as in the case of young women from the devastated sections of Europe. It is not infrequently that an illiterate young lady will arrive at Ellis Island after months of suffering. In some instances the girl is all that is left of a family which has fled, after the burning of their home, and has nothing in the world to live for except for the opportunity which she may find in the United States. She has been driven about during the revolutions from country to country; has had to choose between becoming a member of a Turkish harem or probable death, has chosen the latter and later escaped. No inspector could resist the appeals of these immigrants.

Mrs. Fred DeMoss and children, Frederick and Elizabeth, returned last night from Stanberry where they visited relatives and friends fo ra few days.

R. F. Lamar of Elmo was in Maryville yesterday on business.

Mrs. Bertha Milbank of Clearmont was in Maryville yesterday.

MEMBERS OF MEN'S CLASS ATTEND SKIDMORE BANQUET

Films are Mixed and They Find They Have Wrong Pictures—Twenty in Delegation

About twenty men of the Men's Bible Class of the First Christian Church of this city attended a banquet given by the Men's Bible Class of the Christian Church at Skidmore last night. The dinner was served in the church by the men.

Talks were made by Dr. F. C. Keller of the State Teachers College and Ed W. Gray, president of the Men's Bible Class here. Leonard Jordan of Skidmore responded. Frank Tebow of Maryville gave a solo.

Owing to a mistake made, the pictures of the Men's Bible Class of Maryville could not be shown. The Maryville party secured the Chamber of Commerce films on leaving here yesterday evening and did not discover their mistake until shown last night. One reel of the Commerce club pictures was shown..

The purpose of the meeting was to disucss plans for increasing the membership of the Bible Class at Skidmore.

INCREASED INTEREST SHOWN IN SCHOOLS AND LIBRARIES

Abandoned Army Camps May Be Turned Into Schools—"More Libraries" Is Cry.

Washington, Sept. 1.—(Capital News Service.)—With the coming of September and the opening of schools and colleges for the fall and winter terms, the same keen interest in the acquiring of an education which has manifested itself each year since the war, according to information reaching Washington, is again in evidence. As adding to the interest in the number and character of the institutions of learning among which prospective students may take their choice, the announcement of plans for converting several abandoned army camps into schools for the use of soldiers and sailors is attracting wide attention.

Coincident with this enthusiasm for education is the development of interest by the American public in libraries. It has been pointed out that "from being the luxury of the privileged few the power to read has become the necessary tool of the many," the school accomplishing nothing more significant than to put our people into possession of this tool.

The schools of the country today are costing about $1,000,000,000 per year, or about ten dollars per capita, according to "School and Society," while but about twenty millions is devoted to libraries.

Due to the efforts of the American Library Association a brighter day for the public library is at hand, the efforts of this association being devoted to the establishment of libraries through legislation, principally, and through other channels, incidentally. Suggesting that the school and college only begin the education of the individual, the point also is made by "School and Society" that the billion now spent for the schools as against 20 millions for libraries means, in effect, ten dollars per capita to lay the foundation and twenty cents to build the superstructure.

Mrs. W. J. Staples returned yesterday form a month's vacation trip to Great Falls, Mont., Glacier Park, Spokane, Wash., and other points of interest in the West.

Miss Anna Laura Merrigan of Clyde was a visitor in Maryville today.

NERVOUS FAINTING SPELLS

Mrs. Werner Tells How They Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Camden, N. J.—"Before my baby was born I was run down and weak, had pains in my back and stomach, was very nervous and would have fainting spells. I certainly suffered awfully with those nervous fainting spells. I did not know anyone at times and used to scream. A doctor treated me for the spells but did not seem to do much good. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before so I began taking them again. I soon felt a change and could do my work without pain and was cured of those nervous spells. Now I have a nice fat baby girl and had an easy time at birth, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. WILLIAM C. WERNER, 1216 Van Hook St., Camden, N. J.

When a wife finds her energies are flagging, she is weak, nervous, suffers from backache, the "blues" she should build her system up at once by taking that standard woman's medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as did Mrs. Werner.

If there is anything about your condition you do not understand write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., in regard to your health.

How Do You Choose Your Bank?

A recent investigation shows that the majority of people choose a bank for its friendliness.

They like a bank that makes them feel at home.

That is what this bank wishes to be noted for—

Its friendliness, courtesy and personal service, and general atmosphere of welcome.

In other words it is big enough to be strong and substantial and small enough to know you by name and greet you cordially.

Fifty Years Ago

(From the Nodaway Democrat of August 30, 1871).

The camp meeting of the M. E. church near Prairie Park is progressing. We learn that last Sunday, notwithstanding the bad weather, the attendance was quite large, and something over a half a dozen ministers were present. The meeting will probably be continued during the present week.

Mr. W. D. Ashford has placed on our table several very nice bunches of grapes, of the Concord and Delaware varieties, grown on vines planted last spring. Mr. Ashford has 1,500 nice vines and will have grapes enough to amount to something before many years.

Pickering is beginning to put on city airs. They now boast of two stores, are putting up a fine school house, and everything seems to be prospering.

One day last week Hon. Alonzo Thompson made the Democrat office glad by "lugging" in one of the finest melons of the season, and inviting all hands to participate.

Just north of town, on a twenty acre lot of ground, Marion Cooper is erecting a very neat and tasteful residence.

Peaches are commencing to come into market pretty freely, and a day or two ago we noticed them selling at $1.00 per bushel. They will probably be very plenty in a few days.

The public schools of this district will open next Monday for an eight month term. The teachers employed are: Prof. Dunn, graduate of Hillsdale College, Michigan, principal; Isaac Ware, 2nd department; Miss Mattie Davenport, 3rd department; Miss Lucy E. Holmes of Troy Academy, 4th department; Miss Lillie E. Evans, colored school; R. H. Arnold, school No. 2.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

The Maryville Seminary begins its twelfth year next Tuesday. We learn the prospects are flattering for a large attendance.

As announced in last week's Democrat, the dedication of St. Francis hospital, this city, occurred Wednesday at 9:30 o'clock. The impressive services were conducted by Bishop Burke, and were listened to by a very large audience. The building was thrown open to the public all day and the Sisters conducted visitors through the entire building.

Taken from the advertisement of T. D. Hosmer: Men's cotton worsted suits, $1.50; men's part wool suits, $1.85; men's good business suits, $2.75; men's better business suits, all wool, $4.75; men's choice dress suits, $6.50; men's choice dress suits, good enough for a prince, $7.50; men's extra dress suits, too good for a prince and good enough for an American citizen, $8.75.

The new house of E. D. Orear is going forward toward completion. He will have one of the finest residences in town.

Prof. L. M. Dougan, the new superintendent of the Maryville schools, arrived in the city a few days ago from his New York home. School will begin Monday, September 2.

Frank Shoemaker was given a surprise party on Wednesday night of last week, it being his 44th birthday. Several of his friends paid their respects.

The Guilford schools are to begin next Monday. Prof. Ellis Cook is principal and Miss Kate Wilson will teach the primary.

Dr. K. C. Cummins of King City, brother of Lawyer T. A. Cummins, will move to Maryville about September 10. The doctor is a good physician and has been practicing medicine since 1892.

The new hardware firm of Shoptaugh & Thornhill, successors to the Hudson firm, is starting off nicely and is well pleased with their patronage.

Adolph Koch of this city enjoys the distinction of sitting on the first jury selected in Lawton, the new town in Oklahoma.
